Nora Super Joins Long-Term Quality Alliance (LTQA) as a Senior Fellow

LTQA is pleased to announce that Nora Super, CEO of NS Ideas, LLC and longtime member of the LTQA Board of Directors, is joining the organization as a Senior Fellow effective October 2022. Nora is an internationally recognized thought leader on healthy longevity and the economic and social impact of global population aging. She is a well-known expert and prolific writer on health, long-term care, and retirement public policy. In 2022, Nora was named one of Forbes' 50 over 50 women making an impact.

Most recently, Nora was the Executive Director of the Milken Institute Center for the Future of Aging, where she provided strategic direction for the three primary focus areas of the Center: Healthy Longevity, Financial Security, and Improving Dementia Care. While at the Milken Institute, Nora created and launched the Alliance to Improve Dementia Care, which upon her departure included 100+ organizations, and seeks to transform and improve the complex health and long-term care systems that people at risk for and living with dementia must navigate. Her full bio is available on the LTQA website.

“We are so thrilled for Nora, who has been a mentor and friend to me, to join us as a member of the LTQA team. In addition to her passion for developing and improving models of care for older adults and people with disabilities and her policy expertise, she is an expert facilitator, with proven skill in producing meaningful outcomes and actionable recommendations. I’m excited for the impact we can make working together.” Said LTQA CEO Mary Kaschak

Nora is equally enthusiastic about continuing her work on aging at LTQA. “As an LTQA Board member for nearly a decade, I’m looking forward to helping the organization build out its research portfolio and expand its impact. I am deeply committed to scaling effective models that integrate health and long-term services and supports for older adults and people with disabilities. Our future demands it.”
